RE: MONTHLY CRIME STATISTICS, JUNE 2001

Sir:

I respectfully report the following regarding crime statistics for June 2001. The data includes citywide information for Part One crime, firearm-related violent crime, domestic-related Part One and Part Two crime, abuse orders issued by courts, and arrests for violations of restraining orders. See the attached crime summary pages for more detailed information.

Part One Crime – June 2001

In June of 2001, there were 3,163 Part One crimes reported to the Boston Police Department. This represents a four percent decrease (-4% or 124 fewer incidents) in Part One crime versus both June 2000 and June 1999 figures (143 fewer incidents).

The decrease in Part One crime for June 2001 versus June 2000 is attributable to decreases in three of the seven Part One crime categories. They are as follows: rape and attempted rape (-45% or 14 fewer incidents), aggravated assault (-9% or 40 fewer incidents), and larceny and attempted larceny (-12% or 199 fewer incidents). Increases were seen in the categories of homicide (+40% or 2 more incidents), robbery and attempted robbery (+4% or 8 more incidents), burglary and attempted burglary (+1% or 2 more incidents), and vehicle theft and attempted vehicle theft (+23% or 117 more incidents).

Violent Crime

Reported incidents of violent crime (homicide, rape and attempted rape, robbery and attempted robbery, and aggravated assault) decreased by six percent (-6%) versus June 2000. There was an eight percent decrease (-8%) in this figure compared to June 1999.

Property Crime

Reported incidents of property crime (burglary and attempted burglary, larceny and attempted larceny, and vehicle theft and attempted vehicle theft) decreased by three percent (-3%) versus both June 2000 and June 1999 figures.

Part One Crime – January through June 2001

During the first six months of 2001, there were 17,013 Part One crimes reported to the Boston Police Department. This figure represents a one percent decrease (-1% or 224 fewer incidents) in Part One crime versus the first six months of 2000 and an increase of five percent (+5% or 997 more incidents) versus the same period of 1999.

The decreased level of Part One crime for the first half of 2001 versus the same period of 2000 is attributable to decreases in five of the seven Part One crime categories. They are: rape and attempted rape (-4% or 6 fewer incidents), robbery and attempted robbery (-7% or 89 fewer incidents), aggravated assault (-2% or 123 fewer incidents), burglary and attempted burglary (-4% or 70 fewer incidents), and larceny and attempted larceny (-3% or 223 fewer incidents). Increases were seen in the categories of homicide (+4% or 1 more incident) and vehicle theft and attempted vehicle theft (+8% or 286 more incidents).

Violent Crime

Reported incidents of violent crime (homicide, rape and attempted rape, robbery and attempted robbery, and aggravated assault) decreased by six percent (-6%) versus 2000 figures. A decrease of one percent (-1%) is seen when 2001 figures are compared to 1999 figures.

Property Crime

Reported incidents of property crime (burglary and attempted burglary, larceny and attempted larceny, and vehicle theft and attempted vehicle theft) remained unchanged compared to 2000 figures and increased six percent (+6%) versus 1999 figures.

Domestic Crime – June 2001

During June 2001, 164 domestic-related Part One crimes were reported to the Boston Police Department. This resulted in a ten percent decrease (-10% or 18 fewer incidents) as compared to June 2000 figures. The overall decrease in domestic-related Part One crime is attributable to decreases in three of the seven crime categories: robbery and attempted robbery (-38% or 3 fewer incidents), aggravated assault (-12% or 17 fewer incidents), and larceny and attempted larceny (-15% or 3 fewer incidents). An increase was recorded in burglary and attempted burglary (+36% or 5 more incidents). No changes were recorded in the categories of homicide, rape and attempted rape, and vehicle theft and attempted vehicle theft.

Domestic-related Part Two crime during June 2001 decreased by nine percent (-9% or 51 fewer incidents) versus June 2000. A total of 515 incidents were reported during June 2001 and 566 incidents were reported during June 2000. Notable decreases occurred in the categories of other assaults (-7% or 25 fewer incidents) and other Part Two crimes (-14% or 24 fewer incidents).

Domestic Crime – January through June 2001

During the first six months of 2001, 904 domestic-related Part One crimes were reported to the Boston Police Department. This resulted in a decrease of twelve percent (-12% or 119 fewer incidents) versus the first six months of 2000. The overall decrease is attributable to decreases in five of the seven crime categories: rape and attempted rape (-32% or 10 fewer incidents), robbery and attempted robbery (-10% or 4 fewer incidents), aggravated assault (-13% or 92 fewer incidents), burglary and attempted burglary (-16% or 22 fewer incidents), and vehicle theft and attempted vehicle theft (-100% or 1 fewer incident). Increases were recorded in two categories: homicide (+50% or 1 more incident) and larceny and attempted larceny (+9% or 9 more incidents).

Domestic-related Part Two crime decreased by seven percent (-7% or 234 fewer incidents) in the first half of 2001 as compared to the same time period of 2000. Notable decreases were recorded in the categories of other assaults (-9% or 162 fewer incidents) and other Part Two (-12% or 118 fewer incidents). A notable increase was recorded in the category of vandalism (+14% or 31 more incidents).
